

Electronic Documentation and Artificial Intelligence (AI) Disclosure

Family Matters Counseling Center utilizes secure electronic systems to support clinical documentation, scheduling, billing, and communication. Clinical records are maintained within the Tebra Electronic Health Record (EHR) system, which is designed to meet HIPAA privacy and security standards.

In some cases, electronic tools or software features may assist clinicians with documentation support, transcription, or note-organization functions. These tools may incorporate automated or artificial intelligence (AI)-supported technologies to assist with improving efficiency and accuracy of clinical recordkeeping. Any such tools are used solely as documentation support, and all clinical records are reviewed, edited, and finalized by the licensed clinician responsible for the client's care.

No AI system independently provides clinical judgment, diagnosis, or treatment decisions. Client information remains protected under HIPAA privacy and security regulations, and any electronic systems used are required to maintain appropriate safeguards to protect confidential health information.
